

Gene Byte is a premier Web Solutions partner to small and medium enterprises. We are small enough to give you a personalized service and big enough not to vanish from the map. We are right sized company to partner in your success. Our spectrum of services spans around Web Development, E-Commerce solutions and services, Web Publishing, CRM Solutions and complete Web Marketing Suite which further includes Search Engine Optimization, Social Media Marketing Campaign management and Web Analytics. With our experience and expertise we provide industry specific solutions to match our customer's needs.

Since inception in 2007 by a group of highly qualified Technocrats, Gene Byte has been delivering world class web solutions to organizations in various industry domains.

Gene Byte's collaborative and open environment allows employees to work together to make a project success. We believe in leads by example methodology, imparting integrity and equality. At the same time build collaboration at every level of our organization. Our team is attuned to comprehend clients' needs, and then work in close partnership with the client achieve their broad business goals; thereby creating long-term, win-win relationships and focusing on excellent execution.

Taking calculated risks with new ideas is part of our market strategy. We're proud of our successes, but we don't forget our failures – We learn from them!

We invite you to explore our Technology Solution and Web Marketing Services .